

VERY SAD NEWS...

Scientists Can Predict Baby Eczema Before Symptoms Appear!

A new study shows eczema may be detectable in babies as early as ONE MONTH OLD.

BUT THE
GOOD NEWS
IS – ALL
KIDS CAN BE SAVED!

WHY THIS MATTERS

Eczema (atopic dermatitis) in early life can start the “atopic march” leading to:

Food
Allergies

Asthma

Allergic
Rhinitis

RISKS IF IGNORED

- ⚠ Chronic itchy, inflamed skin
- ⚠ Skin infections
- ⚠ Sleep disturbances
- ⚠ Poor growth & development
- ⚠ Higher risk of allergies & asthma
- ⚠ Lower quality of life

EARLY DETECTION = EARLY PROTECTION

- ✓ New research shows cheek skin biomarkers can predict eczema risk as early as ONE MONTH OLD.
- ✓ Early care can stop the atopic march and protect your child's future health.
